CONTENTS.

VOL. VII.

Continuation of a paper on Square Numbers, &c., read Dec. 22, 1853. By Sir Frederick Pollock, M.A., F.R.S. ........................................ page 1

On a Class of Differential Equations, including those which occur in Dynamical Problems. By W. F. Donkin, M.A., F.R.S. ........ 4

Note on the Decomposition of Sulphuric Acid by Pentachloride of Phosphorus. By Alexander Williamson, Ph.D., F.C.S. .......... 11

On a new and more correct method of determining the Angle of Aperture of Microscopic Object-Glasses. By W. S. Gillett, M.A. 16

On some new Compounds of Phenyl. By Alexander Williamson, Ph.D., F.C.S. ................................................................. 18

Note on an indication of depth of Primæval Seas, afforded by the remains of colour in Fossil Testacea. By Edward Forbes, F.R.S., Pres. G.S. &c. ................................................................. 21

Note on the Melting-point and Transformations of Sulphur. By B. C. Brodie, Esq., F.R.S. .......................................................... 24

On the Structure and Affinities of Trigonocarpon (a fossil fruit of the Coal-measures). By Joseph D. Hooker, M.D., F.R.S. ........ 28

On a peculiar Arrangement of the Sanguiferous System in Terebratula and certain other Brachiopoda. By W. B. Carpenter, M.D., F.R.S. 32

On a new Series of Sulphuretted Acids. By Dr. August Kekulé ... 37

On the Changes produced in the Blood by the Administration of Cod-liver Oil and Cocoa-nut Oil. By Theophilus Thompson, M.D., F.R.S. ................................................................. 41

On a property of Numbers. By the Rev. James Booth, LL.D., F.R.S. 42

On Fessel's Gyroscope. By C. Wheatstone, Esq., F.R.S. ............. 43

Account of Researches in Thermo-Electricity. By Professor W. Thomson of Glasgow, F.R.S. ..................................................... 49

An Introductory Memoir upon Quantics. By Arthur Cayley, Esq., F.R.S. ................................................................. 58
On the relation of the Angular Aperture of the Object-Glasses of Compound Microscopes to their penetrating power and to Oblique Light. By J. W. Griffith, M.D., F.L.S. page 60

On some conclusions derived from the Observations of the Magnetic Declination at the Observatory of St. Helena. By Colonel Edward Sabine, R.A., V.P.R.S. 67

Election of Fellows 82

The Bakerian Lecture.—On Osmotic Force. By Professor Graham, V.P.R.S. 83

Examination of the Cerebro-spinal Fluid. By William Turner, Esq. 89

On the Disintegration of Urinary Calculi by the Lateral Disruptive Force of the Electrical Discharge. By George Robinson, M.D. 99

The Attraction of Ellipsoids considered generally. By Matthew Collins, Esq., B.A. 103

Researches on the Impregnation of the Ovum in the Amphibia. (Third Series.) From the MS. papers of the late George Newport, Esq., F.R.S. 104

On the frequent occurrence of Indigo in Human Urine, and on its Chemical, Physiological and Pathological Relations. By Arthur Hill Hassall, M.D. 122

On the Effect of the Pressure of the Atmosphere on the Mean Level of the Ocean. By Captain Sir James Clark Ross, R.N., F.R.S. 123

On the Thermal Effects of Fluids in Motion.—No. II. By J. P. Joule, Esq., F.R.S., and Professor W. Thomson, F.R.S. 127

Note on Nitro-glycerine. By A. W. Williamson, Ph.D., F.C.S. 130

On a New Phosphite of Ethyl. By A. W. Williamson, Ph.D., F.C.S. 131

On some new derivatives of Chloroform. By A. W. Williamson, Ph.D., F.C.S. 135

On the Constitution of Coal-tar Creosote. By Professor William-son, Ph.D., F.C.S. 143

On the Structure and Functions of the Rostellum in Listera ovata. By J. D. Hooker, M.D., F.R.S. 152

On the Immediate Principles of the Excrements of Man and Animals in the Healthy Condition. By William Marce, M.D. 153

An Account of some recent Researches near Cairo, &c. By Leonard Horner, Esq. Part First (concluded) ............................................ page 233
On the Computation of the Effect of the Attraction of Mountain-masses, as disturbing the apparent astronomical latitude of stations in Geodetic Surveys. By George B. Airy, Esq., F.R.S., Astronomer Royal ................................................................. 240
On the Temperature and Density of the Seas between Southampton and Bombay, vid the Mediterranean and Red Seas. By MM. Adolphe, Hermann, and Robert Schlagintweit .............................. 242
On the Structure, Functions, and Homology of the Manducatory Organs in the Class Rotifera. By P. H. Gosse, Esq. ....................... 245
Address of the President .................................................................... 248
Obituary Notices of Deceased Fellows: —
Professor Edward Forbes ............................................................ 263
Rear Admiral Sir John Franklin ........................................... 270
Captain F. R. M. Crozier, R.N ........................................... 275
Professor Jameson ........................................................................ 276
George Newport, Esq. ............................................................ 278
Nathaniel Wallich, M.D. ............................................................. 285
On the Structure, Functions, and Homology of the Manducatory Organs in the Class Rotifera. By P. H. Gosse, Esq. (concluded) 292
On the Perihelia and Nodes of the Planets. By Edward J. Cooper, Esq., F.R.S. ......................................................................................... 295
On Circumstances modifying the Action of Chemical Affinity. By J. H. Gladstone, Ph.D., F.R.S. ........................................................ 298
Researches on Organo-metallic Bodies. By E. Frankland, Ph.D., F.R.S. Second memoir ............................. 303
Note on the Magnetic Medium. By Prof. A. W. Williamson .......... 306
On the Anatomy of Nautilus umbilicatus, compared with that of Nautilus Pom-pilus. By John Denis Macdonald, Esq., R.N. .............. 311
On a Class of Differential Equations, including those which occur in Dynamical Problems.—Part II. By W. F. Donkin, M.A., F.R.S., F.R.A.S. ................................................................. 314
Extract of a Letter, dated January 6, 1855, from J. Mitchell, Esq., Quartermaster of Artillery, Bangalore, "On the Influence of Local Altitude on the Burning of the Fuses of Shells" .......................... 316
On the existence of an element of Strength in beams subjected to Transverse Strain, arising from the Lateral Action of the fibres or particles on each other, and named by the author the "Resistance to Flexure." By William Henry Barlow, Esq., F.R.S. ................................. 319
On the Metallic and some other Oxides, in relation to Catalytic Phenomena. By the Rev. J. Eyre Ashby ........................................... 322
Ocular Spectres and Structures as Mutual Exponents. By James Jago, A.B. Cantab., M.B. Oxon. .................................

Extract of a Letter from Professor Langberg of Christiania to Colonel Sabine, dated June 10, 1855 ................................................... 434

Anatomical Notices. By Professor Andrew Retzius, of Stockholm ... 437

On the Effect of Local Attraction upon the Plumb-line at stations on the English Arc of the Meridian, between Dunnose and Burleigh Moor; and a Method of computing its Amount. By the Venerable Archdeacon Pratt ................................................. 440

Contributions to the history of Aniline, Azobenzole and Benzidine. By A. W. Hofmann, Ph.D., F.R.S ........................................ 444

On the Formation and some of the Properties of Cymidine, the Organic Base of the Cymol Series. By the Rev. John Barlow, F.R.S ...... 446

Letter from Dr. Herapatli to Professor Stokes, On the Compounds of Iodine and Strychnine ......................................................... 447

On the Existence of a Magnetic Medium. By T. A. Hirst, Esq. ....... 448

On the ultimate Arrangement of the Biliary Ducts, and on some other points in the Anatomy of the Liver of Vertebrate Animals. By Lionel S. Beale, M.B ...................................................... 454

Experimental Researches on the Movement of Atmospheric Air in Tubes. By W. D. Chowne, M.D .................. .............................. 466

On Rubian and its Products of Decomposition.—Part III. By Edward Schunck, Esq., F.R.S ..................................................... 477

On the Enumeration of x-edra having an (x−1)-gonal Face, and all their Summits Triedral. By the Rev. Thomas P. Kirkman, A.M. 482

Notes on British Foraminifera. By J. Gwyn Jeffreys, Esq., F.R.S. 485

Discussion of the observed Deviations of the Compass in several Ships, Wood-built and Iron-built; with General Tables for facilitating the examination of Compass-deviations. By G. B. Airy, Esq., F.R.S., Astronomer Royal ........................................................... 491

Report of a Committee appointed by the Council to examine theCalculating Machine of M. Scheutz ................................................................. 499

Report made to the President and Council of the Royal Society, of Experiments on the Friction of Discs revolving in Water. By James Thomson, Esq., C.E., Belfast ................................................................. 509

Account of the appropriation of the sum of £5000, placed by Her Majesty’s Government, in five annual sums of £1000 each, in the years 1850 to 1854 inclusive, at the disposal of the Royal Society, to be employed in aiding the promotion of Science in the United Kingdom: ................................................................. 512

Experimental Researches in Electricity. Thirtieth Series. By Michael Faraday, D.C.L., F.R.S. &c ................................................................. 523

Discussion of the observed Deviations of the Compass in several ships, Wood-built and Iron-built; with General Tables for facilitating the examination of Compass-deviations. By G. B. Airy, Esq., F.R.S., Astronomer Royal 527

On Chemical Affinity, and the Solubility of the Sulphate of Baryta in Acid Liquors. By F. Crace Calvert, Esq. 532

Results of the Examination of certain Vegetable Products from India. —Part I. By John Stenhouse, LL.D., F.R.S. 536

On the Representation of Polyhedra. By the Rev. Thomas P. Kirkman, A.M. 543

On the Action of Sulphuric Acid on the Nitriles and on the Amides. By G. B. Buckton, Esq., and A. W. Hofmann, Ph.D., F.R.S. 544

On the Structure and Development of the Cysticercus Cellulosae, as found in the Pig. By George Rainey, Esq. 548

Further Researches on the Polarity of the Diamagnetic Force. By John Tyndall, Ph.D., F.R.S. 555

Address of the President 560
